If the Examination System is, ideally, a means of testing mental development, then we submit that the Homework System is, ideally, a means of promoting mental development. This statement is no mere platitude since both systems, originally so excellent in principle, have deteriorated. While men now undertake to pass examinations merely for their own sake, similarly boys do their homework merely to placate exacting pedagogues. We suggest boys have reason to object to spending their evenings working hard under the vigilant eyes of their parents, when they have already worked steadily under the inexorable superintendence of their teachers during the day.

This system of enforced concentrated effort on minutiæ during the first twenty years of a man's life is rapidly undermining the standard of intelligence which we have attained only after generations of a self-appointed pursuit of the Arts. Today boys have not the leisure time to interest themselves in branches of learning they would naturally prefer to study, owing to the necessity for doing homework on top of school work. Therefore every moment of leisure is a period of complete relaxation.

We have a remedy. It entails the abolition of homework and afternoon school. School would then commence at seven-thirty in the morning and would continue until twelve o'clock noon. During this period boys would be capable of sustained effort and would require little break. Afternoon school would consist of one period from two o'clock until three, when "homework" would be done. For the rest of the day boys would be free. In this free period the Arts could be studied, or alternatively, healthy recreation could be pursued. The substitution of this system for the one now in vogue we consider would improve the mental and physical faculties of the nation. Instead of the ponderous system of endless toil which is current there would be an even balance of work and "play."

Even if this system is too revolutionary to be effective at present, we suggest that the Homework System could be abolished.

HOUSE NOTES

EDWARDS'

This term the Junior cricket team has won one match and lost two; the Seniors have won all their matches and are now in the final. We wish them success and hope in due course to see the Shield back in its right and proper place on the wall of the House Room. In Badminton we won the first round but we were defeated in the semi-final. We are pleased to see that the number qualifying in swimming is far greater than in previous years.

This term several boys in the House have played regularly for School teams: Lowe, who has been awarded 2nd XI colours, Ayrton and Walker have played for the 1st XI, Edmondson, Carr and Atherton have played for the 2nd XI, and Thornley has played for the Colts' XI.

We congratulate Hargreaves, Carr and Learoyd on being appointed House Prefects.

Throughout the year the House has been very keen, and although we have won only one Shield we have no regrets.

During the year several of our members have left, including K. Smith, Holland, Wallace, Proudfoot and K. Rigby. These are very serious losses to our strength, and as a result the record is all the more praiseworthy.

Last term we won the Junior Shield in the Gymnastic competition. It is a new Shield and it is, of course, a great honour to win it first. We congratulate the boys who helped to win it.

This term our Junior XI has won two of its three matches. There will be some replays and we still hope to win the final this year as we did last. The Senior XI started well by beating Mason's by 10 wickets. We were beaten by Spencer's, however, and thus we are out of the final. We took our revenge on Woodham's after the Spencer's match and beat them easily.

The House is represented in School games by J. Sawbridge who has played for the 1st XI, by J. Smalley and R. Hepburn who have played for the 2nd XI, and by Pearson who has played for the Colts' XI.

We are happy to record that Evans' again topped the House Honours' List last term. This is the fourth time in succession, and we thank all the boys who have helped the House to gain this honour.

The standard of swimming is low on the average this term, as we have lost many valuable Seniors, including J. D. Bennett, E. Pickthall and M. H. Smalley. A few boys have qualified and there are some useful Juniors.

The House extends its best wishes for the success of those boys who are taking the S.C. Examinations this year.

J. E. S.

GREAR'S

We must congratulate the Junior Rugby XV who, at the end of last term, managed to defeat Leech's in the final of the competition.

Once again the House displayed its prowess on the sports' field by retaining all three trophies. Congratulations are due to all boys who took part, and especially to those who were running for the first time in Group III. They did particularly well, suggesting a good result for next year. The House was well represented in the Inter-School Sports at Cowley by R. Christy, W. Gibbons, J. Wright and J. Rimmer.

The Senior cricket has not been too good this term, although we did manage to beat Rogers', but lost to both Leech's and Edwards'. The Juniors have not been very fortunate, having lost to Leech's but beating Rogers' rather easily. It is encouraging to note the promise of some of the Juniors, who seem likely to restore the House's old reputation for cricket in the near future. We congratulate N. Hind on being awarded his 2nd XI colours. W. Gibbons and J. White have played regularly for the 2nd XI, and Newbold, McDougall, Sunter and Gate have also played for the Colts.

We were unfortunately unable to produce last year's good form in the Badminton competition, F. Harrison and W. Gibbons being easily defeated.

The House has swam very well for the Ingham Cup and has shown great keenness for swimming throughout the term.

We offer our most hearty congratulations to R. T. Christy on being made a School Prefect.

To those boys who have taken either the H.S.C. or the S.C. examination we wish the best of success.

The House extends its sincerest sympathies to H. C. Skaife and his parents on his most unfortunate accident.

W. G.

LEECH'S

At the beginning of this term the House was deprived of the services of J. D. Stevenson, its able Games Captain, whose place in the Cricket and Swimming teams will be hard to fill. Whilst offering him our sincerest wishes for success in his new sphere we must also offer our congratulations to J. H. Taylor who has succeeded him as Games Captain and has been raised to the ranks of the School Prefects.

Two members of the House have been absent nearly all this term, but for different reasons. Hall, the House Captain, has been cloistered in the local infirmary with appendicitis, and Mowels has also been detained there with a broken arm. We offer them both our best wishes for a speedy recovery.

Last term we reached fourth position in the Athletic Sports, which is a record for the House. Our Junior cricket team has been very successful in all its matches, winning them comfortably, and therefore passing into the final. With such stalwarts as Abram, Parkinson and Highton in the team we feel sure of retaining the Junior Cricket Shield for another year.

In the Badminton tournament we were less successful, being beaten in the first match. Our representatives, Dixon and Jones, P., have received valuable experience which will no doubt stand them in good stead in future matches.

With the Swimming Sports so near we must urge everyone to qualify and so help the House to gain as many points as possible. In this manner all can do their bit besides those picked for special heats.

The S.C. and H.S.C. examinations are very near, and to all members of the House who are undergoing either of these nerve-wracking ordeals we extend our sympathy and best wishes for success.

I. H. T.

MASON'S

The House met with little success in the sports, being placed in only one event, the Mile Open, in which our representative came in second.

In the House Cricket competition the Senior team lost its first match with Evans', but beat Woodham's in the next match by two runs in what was the most thrilling encounter of the day. The Junior XI has lost each of its games against Evans', Woodham's and Spencer's.

We offer our hearty congratulations to our House Captain, R. Rigby, who has been awarded the Herbert Whitworth Scholarship in Textile Technology, tenable at the Manchester College of Technology. He will be leaving us at the end of this term and we wish him every success in his future career.

The House heard with great pleasure of the successes of two of our Old Boys, E. H. Lee and S. D. C. Munday, who have gained First-class Honours at Cambridge. This achievement is the result of hard work on their part and we hope that they will have highly successful careers.

E

In the House Badminton competition our team, R. Rigby and E. Riddlesworth beat Evans' in the first round by 21-5, 21-4; in the semi-final Edwards' were defeated by 21-17, 21-10; and in the final the Cup was retained for the House when Spencer's were beaten 21-16, 21-11. The House has now held the trophy for the last four years, and we congratulate Rigby and Riddlesworth on their success.

The House wishes success to all our candidates in the Higher School Certificate and School Certificate Examinations which were held in July.

L. D.

ROGERS'

Last term we were unfortunate in losing the services of D. T. Atkinson. His loss will be felt on the rugby field and also on the running track. We wish him every success in his future career.

We offer our congratulations to E. B. Faulkner on his appointment as a School Prefect, and to W. H. Tew on being made a House Prefect.

This year we did not do so well in the Athletic Sports as in previous years; the Medley Cup, which in the past was a coveted possession of the House, has again found its way elsewhere.

On the cricket field we have also been unfortunate, the Seniors having lost all three of their matches, and the Juniors, captained by Bucher, who have only played two matches, have lost them both.

Our number of representatives in School teams has regretfully diminished, although R. M. Hastie, who early this term was elected House Cricket Captain, has played regularly for the 1st XI, and W. H. Tew has played for the 2nd XI.

This term several swimming practices have been held under the captaincy of E. B. Faulkner, and we have great hopes of distinguishing ourselves in the events. It is also pleasing to note that a larger number of boys than usual have already qualified.

In the Badminton tournament W. H. Tew and R. K. Rimmer succeeded in defeating Woodham's in the first round.

By the time these notes appear in print the S.C. and H.S.C. examinations will be over. To all those taking the examinations we wish the best of luck.

W. H. T.

SPENCER'S

It is with great pleasure that we record the success of the House in being placed second in the Athletic Sports, held at the beginning of this term. Many of the Junior boys such as Foster and Ogden, P. H., distinguished themselves in the various field events, and their success augurs well for the future.

The final of the Senior Tug, in which, in spite of the inaccurate report in the Southport Visiter, the team succeeded in pulling Grear's, provided the most thrilling moment of the sports. It was a stern struggle; we were pulled to within six inches of our opponents' line, and although our "pull" had not the style we exhibited in the semi-final against Leech's, yet the training the team had received proved too much for a tired Grear's team.

We congratulate J. H. Marshall, who succeeded in winning the individual 100 Yards' race in the Cowley School Sports.

The House, we are pleased to note, still continues to contribute players to School cricket teams: Marshall, J. H., Ormerod, J., Roberts, J. F., and Coulshed, N., are playing regularly for the 1st XI; Westwell has played for the 2nd XI, and Wilkinson, F. D., Mellor, V., and Lees, A. E., for the Colts' XI.

So far this term the Senior House XI has won all three of its matches and is thus eligible for the final. The Juniors have been less fortunate, having lost one of their matches. They still "live to fight another day," however, in a replay to decide the finalists.

By their performance in qualifying rounds in the Badminton competition, Ormerod and Marshall raised our hopes of adding the Badminton Cup to the new Senior gymnastic trophy we gained last term. Their opponents in the final, however, Mason's, triumphed by reason of their greater experience.

The rapid approach of the Swimming Sports necessitates assiduous practice, and we trust the efforts of our swimmers will meet with succes.

To all those sitting for S.C. and H.S.C. examinations we wish a considerate body of examiners.

This term sees the end of another School year, and with it the departure of several of our Senior boys; indeed, Hibbert, H. A. B., has already left us, and we extend to him our best wishes for success.

To be assured that others will carry on their work is ample reward for those who have given their services.

A. R. G. S. W.

WOODHAM'S

The Summer term opened as usual with the Athletic Sports competition. During the Easter holidays practices had been held under the able guidance of our Games Captain, E. Craven. The attendances were very encouraging, and although we were unable to carry off the Shield we took third place. We congratulate all those who represented the House on their success.

Sport and work are combined this term in a very high degree, competitions being held for Junior and Senior cricket, badminton and swimming, together with the yearly School S.C. and H.S.C. examinations. The Seniors were most unfortunate at the outset of the season to lose their Captain, Craven, whom we must congratulate on being elected Cricket Captain of the School. Craven sustained an injury to his knee which will necessitate his withdrawal from all sports for some time, and as a result the Seniors were badly weakened and sustained defeat in all three matches, although by the narrow margin of two runs against Mason's. The Juniors, under the captaincy of J. Lancashire, have been more successful, winning two of their matches and losing to Spencer's, whom they are due to play again before they can reach the semi-final. We trust that they will be able to avenge their former defeat and win their way to the final. In School teams the House is represented by E. Craven, captain of the 1st XI, and Barton in the Colts' XI.

Although the Badminton Cup seems to have become the permanent property of a certain House, the remainder of the Houses still insist on holding a competition each year. We were narrowly defeated in the first round by Rogers', 21-17, 21-16.

The Swimming Sports are still ahead of us, and we hope that the boys now training for them may be successful and regain the Cup.

To return to more serious topics, the work of the House this term has progressed satisfactorily on the whole, despite the attractions of the open-air and summer weather.

To some the summer term means their last at school, and we hope that all those leaving from Woodham's will be able to say they have done their bit in "the trivial round, the common task," and that those who take their place will strive to preserve the true spirit of our House.

Good luck to all those taking the H.S.C. and S.C. examinations.

OLD BOYS' LETTERS

Gonville and Caius College, Cambridge,

June 23rd, 1937

To the Editors of the "Red Rose."

SIRS,—We are now enjoying that pleasant afterexamination period when everybody is trying desperately hard to do nothing. Earlier in the term, when examinations loomed ahead, we had long arguments debating whether it was possible to work on the river, but now we completely ignore this academic consideration and our days are spent reclining peacefully in a punt slowly drifting along the Backs. There is nothing which contrasts more with the turmoil of exams, than to glide along the cool river past the ancient buildings and pleasant lawns.

We have had the pleasure of a visit from a fellow Old Georgian for the last few days of term, and we made an effort to instil into him the subtle art of punting. To the untrained eye there seems nothing easier than to make a punt glide smoothly along the river, but we suggest that a glance at our guest making his first attempt to control his unruly craft would change these impressions. He moved in a sinusoidal path oscillating from bank to bank to the intense amusement of the few spectators present; few because we chose that deserted period before breakfast when most undergraduates are still asleep. We do not wish to give you a derogatory view of his first attempt, far from it, for we must congratulate him on the way in which he maintained his equilibrium on the platform of the punt throughout.

We regret that next year our membership will be decreased by fifty per cent., but we trust that in future years some of you will realise the benefit to be gained by joining us.

We are. Sirs.

Yours faithfully.

THE CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY OLD GEORGIANS.

The University,

Sheffield,

June 23rd, 1937

To the Editors of the "Red Rose."

SIRS,—" Absence makes the heart grow fonder," but "distance certainly does not lend enchantment," and "out of sight, out of mind" is a statement wholely fallacious. I visited Southport some weeks ago, not having been there for over two years, and was struck very forcibly with the good appearance of the School and the advantages of having playing fields on the spot. Here in Sheffield we have to journey miles and do a goodly spot of mountaineering before reaching the 'varsity grounds. Truly "familiarity breeds contempt." I never realised how fortunate we were.

After which eulogy—I met J. Sumner some few weeks ago. He is in the police force here and is apparently distinguishing himself at the king of games, and bears many medals in token of his prowess with bat and ball.

I am, Sirs, yours faithfully,

P. B.

The University, Liverpool,

21/6/37

To the Editors of the "Red Rose."

SIRS,—After having postponed the evil day as long as possible I settle myself down to meet with your request. You asked for it—

As usual, work—hard work—has dominated the lives of the Old Georgians at Liverpool. Several are now anxiously awaiting the results of "professionals," whilst the remainder quail at the thoughts of a "U" in terminals. A. M. Abrahams, T. H. Rigg and J. M. Russel have been taking finals in Medicine; M. M. Pennell, D. E. Smallwood and H. Lees in Science; S. Hesketh and A. Blainey in Engineering.

J. H. Dowson has alone been maintaining the School's name in the realm of sport. He has played successfully in the cricket eleven.

After giving you all the news I suppose I ought to recount the goings-on of some of the people of whom I have obtained fleeting glimpses during term. Why a University student should be expected to descend to such low forms of humour in order to amuse educated youths I do not pretend to be able to explain. Nor am I going to indulge in an essay on some topical subject. My English, I know, is very poor—if you doubt my words ask G. L. C.

or A. W. P. Thus by making this letter short I will lessen your arduous task of re-casting this epistle.

And so, dear Sirs, for the present we leave you.

Yours faithfully,

LIVERPOOL UNIVERSITY OLD GEORGIANS.

OLD BOYS' NOTES

The Old Boys' Association has embarked upon a new period in its history.

During the last few years a lack of enthusiasm had become increasingly evident, and dissatisfaction spreading through the Association rapidly caused disintegration. The officers made a determined effort to stop the decline, and, with this object in view, finally summoned a meeting of representative Old Boys to discuss the future of the Association. The general feeling of the meeting was that the fall in the numerical strength was due to the lack of co-ordination between the Old Georgians and the School, and a desire was expressed that in the future the two organisations should be more closely connected.

At the Annual General Meeting, which was subsequently held, it was decided to reorganise the Association. The results of the Committee's efforts in this direction are not yet apparent, but it is hoped that by the end of the year the Association will once more play a very active part in the life of the School.

On Founders' Day the Headmaster very kindly invited the officers to attend the celebrations, and we would like to take this opportunity of thanking the School for the hospitality which was extended to our representatives.

I wish to conclude this report by inviting all boys who are leaving school to join the Association. Their support will be greatly appreciated by the Committee.

F. HUMPHREYS (Hon. Secretary).

Hon. Secretary-G. Barnes

This season the Old Georgians have not enjoyed the best of success. After a very encouraging victory in the opening match we have had a series of set-backs. The majority of these have, however, been due largely to ill-luck.

Often the toss has gone against us, resulting in our having to bat on the worst of the wicket. On occasions we have thrown away wickets in trying to force a victory when playing out time would not have been a difficult task. As the season continues we hope to improve with the assistance of members who will be on their University vacations. Thus we expect to give a good account of ourselves in the annual match with the School.

I would like to make some reference to F. Miley, who has been one of our mainstays fo rseveral seasons. Miley has now graduated to a higher level cricket and is playing for the Cheshire Wayfarers. He hopes to join Manchester before very long; thus he will be playing in the company of county players. We wish him every success.

Unfortunately our club is not supported by the Old Boys as it should be. It is left to a few stalwarts who pull their weight year after year to keep the club going. This is a sad state of affairs and it should not be so. Surely there should be more support for one of the few existing branches of the Old Boys' Association. I trust boys about to leave school will bear the cricket club in mind and rally round for the sake of the School and Old Boys. I am sure the Headmaster will be pleased to put boys in touch with the cricket club.

EMPIRE RALLY OF YOUTH: CORONATION YEAR —— 1937

The idea of a rally of Empire Youth was first conceived by the National Council of Education of Canada. They thought that a rally held on the memorable occasion of the Coronation would be an auspicious beginning for the formation of a union of youth, a league of young minds and ideals; non-political, but instead sanctified by the deep religious feeling inspired by the Coronation.

A week after the actual ceremony about ten thousand young people assembled in the Albert Hall under the distinguished patronage of H.R.H. the Duke of Gloucester, to hear an address by the Prime Minister, Mr. Stanley Baldwin. No ordinary throng of people this, but a gathering the like of which has never before been seen in any country. A living picture of the British Empire; young men and women from England, Scotland, Wales, Northern Ireland, Canada, New Zealand, Australia, India and South Africa. Far-flung settlements came to London, all joining in a rally which showed better than anything else could possibly have done, the unity of the peoples under the British flag, the common cause of all, the moral ties which bind men in the far corners of the earth with their kinsfolk in the British Isles.

There are other youth organisations in other countries whose ambitions, however, have been perverted by political views. An ideal youth movement must have leave to express itself in unrestrained terms and not be turned to baser ends. It is hoped that the rally in London this year may prove to be the foundation of a League of Youth inspired by high Christian ideals, and which may become a great power for peace and goodwill among the nations of the world.

The British Empire is the greatest union in the world, the greatest the world has ever known, and at the Coronation the Dominions Overseas were given an equal place with the mother country. The fraternity of the Empire was no less expressed at the Albert Hall. Thousands from all over the world: the sight of them was sufficient to call forth a fervent prayer that this gathering might produce an even better understanding between the nations.

Inspiration was indeed forthcoming from Mr. Baldwin. His speech was very moving, his words forceful and impressive. The youth of the Empire here were the potential citizens of tomorrow, and he appealed to them to shoulder their responsibilities, to put their duty to make the world a better place to live in before all thoughts of their own rights. To remember what has gone before; to profit by remembrance; to keep the torch of freedom ever alight, the torch which had been lit by the suffering, the agony and sacrifice of former generations. Above all, Mr. Baldwin, in his masterful oratory, enjoined his young audience to preserve freedom throughout the Empire, to work with their eagerness, courage and strength. The Coronation was a living symbol of the freedom and toleration enjoyed in the British lands; the fervour and enthusiasm on that day of days showed the deep-rooted affection of the nations for their King.

Mr. Baldwin knew well the aim of the rally, and in his speech he told the boys and girls before him " to live for the brotherhood of man, which implies the fatherhood of God.' No nation is worthy of a man's worship, dictators and despotisms are misguided institutions. Never deify rulers,

Many people commenting on the Prime Minister's farewell speech said it was the finest he had ever delivered, and although his hearers that night in the Albert Hall had not had the opportunity of hearing many of his addresses, nevertheless all must have realised the care and thought and sincerity of his words. His eloquence put into words the thoughts of all those present: the hopes and dreams of those who had organised the rally.

Ten thousand young minds went away that night from the Albert Hall imbued with high sentiments and lofty ideals. A vivid picture had been presented to them of the possibilities, the far-reaching effects of a League of Empire Youth; the immense force for good, for peace in the world, which a movement, inaugurated in the fitting atmosphere of Coronation, could have.

A service was held the following afternoon in Westminster Abbey and Westminster Hall. The address was given by the Archbishop of Canterbury. On the special forms of service was printed the title, "Challenge of the

LANCASHIRE

Some men may love the Sussex downs That end in cliffs of white: But take me to the smoky towns Where day is almost night. Or to the heights of Lakeland fells. Amid the mountain air. Where sweetly ring the chapel bells To call the folk to prayer.

Most people think of Lancashire In terms of soot and smoke, But on the hills the air is clear. And heather lays a cloak Of purple on the rugged ground. And down the rocky ghyll Come silver streams with rushing sound. The mighty lake to fill.

The folk who live in Lancashire Are honest folk and true: When travelling there, you've naught to fear, For they will welcome you. They can't afford to buy rich furs, The weaving looms they tend. Let's hope to them the coming years Prosperity may send.

[ED.—This is an interpretation by a junior boy of the famous poem. We would recommend it for study to all those interested in the art of paraphrase.]

PAUL REVERE'S RIDE

It was owing to Paul Revere that the ammunition dump at Concord was saved from falling into the hands of the British soldiers, and this is how it happened.

In the course of the day Revere said to his friend that if the British soldiers marched on Concord he must hang a lantern in the old tower. One flash of the lantern meant that the soldiers would go by land, and two flashes, that the soldiers would go by sea. Then with a muffled oar he rowed across to Charlestown to await his friend's signal.

It was night: Paul Revere was standing on the shore patting the glossy neck of his horse, his gaze concentrated on the old North tower on the other side of the river. In Massachusetts Bay, with the moon for a background, lay the British man-of-war "Somerset," swinging idly in the tide.

Meanwhile Paul Revere's friend was standing in the tower, when suddenly shadowy shapes flitted across the bay in the direction of the River Mystic, and a faint splash came to his ears. As if in a dream he watched, then remembering Paul Revere, he held the lantern aloft for a second, shrouded it with his cloak, uncovered it again, and wended his way down the long, long flight of the old tower's creaky stairs.

Paul Revere saw the two flashes and knew the British soldiers were coming by sea. Digging his spurs into his horse's flanks he galloped away to warn the farmers. The people seated in the inns heard a clatter of hoofs, a sharp rap on the door as Paul rushed past. At length he rode into Concord with a foaming steed.

The laggards in the British force were lucky for once, for they had the best start in the headlong retreat from the farmers.

E. W. M. (Tr. X).

The mountains rising so austere;
The lakes so calm and blue;
O God, the home is surely here
Of Scottish hearts so true.
And just to see those glens again
And hear the pibrochs play,
My voice would join the glad refrain;
My heart would leap for joy.

To walk along by Loch Katrine
And breathe the pure, fresh air;
Who could forget that lovely scene,
The isles, thrown here and there?
The hills with glorious purple slopes
So sparkling after rain;
'Tis always one of the traveller's hopes
To tread those hills again.

He dreams of Highland hills and dells,
Of tiny, rippling streams;
Of lambs and sheep with tinkling bells—
He loves this land of dreams.
He loves this free and glorious land
Its quiet, soothing peace;
He would not change these virtues grand
For any golden fleece.

INTER-SCHOOL SPORTS HELD AT COWLEY, 1937

On Saturday, May 29th, the School sent a team to compete against Cowley Grammar School, Liverpool Collegiate, and Chester Training College, at St. Helens. It was evident before the start that Chester's superior height and age would prove a big handicap to the younger school team. The School started off extremely well, both J. H. Marshall and V. E. Gibbins gaining places in the final of the individual 100 yards. In the final, Marshall ran a very fine race to gain a narrow victory in 10% secs.

In the third event, Putting-the-Shot, R. T. Christy's style proved too much for Chester's "brawn," and with a fine putt of 38 ft. $l\frac{1}{2}$ ins., he took first place from Chester.

Chester again figured conspicuously in the long jump when they gained first and second places in front of J. Rimmer, whose last jump was 18 ft.

In the individual 440 yards J. Rimmer ran magnificently to be just beaten by Rahn, of Chester, in 57 secs. But when we learn that Rahn is a Welsh International reserve, Rimmer's performance becomes all the more creditable. He was only beaten by age.

The meeting was concluded with the relay, and although the School held first place for over half the race, we had to be content with third place.

There was no doubt after the first few events that Chester would secure first place, but a keen struggle ensued between Cowley and the School for the second place, which was in doubt until the very last minute.

The boys concerned must be heartily congratulated on their efforts, and the School is greatly indebted to Mr. Booth, who spent much valuable time in training the team. Results:—

- 1.—100 Yards.—1, J. H. Marshall (K.G.V.S.); 2, Chester; 3, Cowley. Time, $10\frac{4}{5}$ secs.
- 2.—Hurdles.—1, Cowley; 2, Cowley; 3, Liverpool. Time, $16\frac{2}{5}$ secs.
- 3.—Putting-the-Shot.—1, R. T. Christy (K.G.V.S.); 2, Chester; 3, Chester. 38 ft. 1½ ins.
- 4.—220 Yards.—1, Chester; 2, Chester; 3, Cowley. Time, 25 secs.

- 5—Mile.—1, Chester; 2, Liverpool; 3, Chester. Time, 5 mins. 2 secs.
- 6.—Long Jump—1, Chester; 2, Chester; 3, J. Rimmer (K.G.V.S.).; 18 ft. 4 ins.
- 7.—440 Yards—I, Chester; 2, J. Rimmer (K.G.V.S.); 3, Liverpool. Time, 57 secs.
- 8.—High Jump.—1, Cowley; 2, Chester; 3, Chester. 5 ft. 4 ins.
- 9.—Relay.—I, Chester; 2, Cowley; 3, School. School Relay team: J. H. Marshall, 110 yards; V. E. Gibbins, 110 yards; G. Worsley, 220 yards; J. Rimmer, 440 yds.

CRICKET

lst XI CRITICISM

CRAVEN, E. (Captain).—1st XI colours 1937.

MARSHALL, J. H. (Vice-Captain.—1st XI colours 1937.

ORMEROD, J.—Ist XI colours 1937. A good experienced opening bat. His shot between point and third slip is a delight to watch. Has given many chances to second slip by not moving over the top of the ball when off-driving. Very accurate when throwing in.

HASTIE, R.—1st XI colours 1937. Left arm opening bowler. Bowls accurately and has been consistently successful. A good bat, very strong on the leg.

RIDDLESWORTH, E.—Ist XI colours 1937. Has been the most consistent bat so far this season. Scores runs freely all round the wicket. Must be careful when playing a leg-break pitched on the wickets.

- CUNNINGHAM, J. M.—1st XI colours 1937. Wicket-keeper. He has several good wickets to his credit. He must learn not to let go with one hand when batting.
- ROBERTS, J. F.—2nd XI colours 1937. A stylish bat, but does not seem to have got going yet this season. A very good fielder.
- Lowe, T.—2nd XI colours 1937. A left hand batter and change bowler. He can hook a ball very well, but when batting he never seems comfortable. Has taken several good wickets, but sends down far too many loose balls.
- SAWBRIDGE, J.—2nd XI colours 1937. A fast opening bowler. For a fast bowler he is moderately accurate. Lacks the power which is usually present in a successful fast bowler of sending an occasional unstoppable ball. Throws in very well.
- COULSHED, N.—2nd XI colours 1937. A change bowler and a reasonable bat. He is rather impatient when batting and has lost his wicket on several occasions by trying to hit a boundary off a good ball. Keen fielder.
- HIND, R. N.—2nd XI colours 1937. An opening bat. Is content to remain at the wickets for a long period without scoring. Does not put any power behind his shots. As a change bowler he has not met with much success. Good fielder.
- AYRTON, A.—2nd XI colours 1937. A new comer to the side. Has the makings of a good opening batsman. Rather slack in the field.
- Walker, P. H., Rimmer, S., White, J. A., Williams, E. B., Munday, R. T. G., and Carr, R. H., have also played.
- 2nd XI colours have been awarded to Walker, P. H., Rimmer, S., White, J. A., Williams, E. B., Gibbons, W., and Atherton, K. H. G.

SWIMMING

Hill 4 ... 2 ... 5 ... 0 Parkinson 3 ... 0 ... 10 ... 1

Holland 5 ... 0 ... 30 ... 3 Thornley 2 ... 2 ... 0 ... 3

It is very gratifying to be able to report that both the attendance at the baths and the enthusiasm of the boys learning to swim have been maintained throughout the term. Those boys who have persevered week after week to learn and then to improve their stroke are to be commended. Among the outstanding efforts of the term must be mentioned that of S. J. Rimmer, who succeeded in swimming a length of the bath during his second lesson. Other boys who have shown good progress include: A. G. Blair, E. W. Marsden, W. M. Jeffries, P. C. Hammersley, K. C. Vidler, J. S. Deane, R. H. Abram, W. Evans. G. Humphreys.

Perhaps the most pleasing feature of the swimming activities of the year has been the invaluable help given by senior boys. When a beginner has shown sufficient promise it is our practice for him to be convoyed when he enters deep water for the first time, and senior boys have always been ready to undertake this task. They have been diligent also in encouraging younger boys to qualify for their Houses. J. R. Lloyd (Mason's), W. Gibbons (Grear's), E. B. Faulkner (Rogers'), S. K. Runcorn (Grear's), P. Lomax (Edward's), and J. E. Smalley (Evans'), have contributed a great deal towards the success of the school swimming this year. H. E.

BADMINTON

The interest in School Badminton is steadily increasing owing to the facilities for playing in the gym. and the popular spread of Badminton in the town. The standard of play in the competition was much higher this year than in previous years. With the growth of Badminton we look forward to the time when it will receive official status in the school. Above all, boys are urged to concentrate on the finer points of the game as well as on the killing "smash."

MUSIC SOCIETY

This term the weekly rehearsals have been fairly well attended, but we regret to say that certain of the younger members of the orchestra have been asking for permission to leave before the end of the rehearsal: surely these people can spare one hour a week.

Two of our violinists have learnt the clarifiet and we can now vary the combination of the orchestra; three clarinets are a valuable addition to the strings of the orchestra in certain numbers. We are sorry to say, however, that we have as yet no 'cellist. Any boy interested should see either Mr. Thompson or the Secretary.

We would remind the School that at the end of this term many of the leading members of the orchestra will be leaving and we look to the School to fill up the gaps. We therefore urge all boys who can play, or who are learning to play any orchestral instrument, to come along to our meetings on Monday evenings.

A. G. L.

THE ART SOCIETY

Summer sunshine and cricket have an extraordinary tendency to deplete the attendance of the Society. Our average attendance has not been high, but in the main it has been regular, and keeping in mind the Annual Exhibition, our members have worked hard, especial attention being paid to plant-form. Before these notes went to press a junior plant-form competition was held, in which, from a considerable number of entries, the judges selected the paintings of H. Atherton and A. Bishop, who gained first and second prizes respectively.

Several outings have taken place, and among other people we owe our thanks to the porters of Kew Station, who kindly granted us permission to sketch their noble buildings. These sketching-trips have proved both popular and instructive, and much talent has been forthcoming.

We have had a rubber stamp made this term which will be seen in future upon all Art Society posters. So far this stamp has not made its début, but no doubt there is plenty of work ahead of it next term.

Once again we end these notes with a cordial invitation to join the Art Society extended to all boys who have any interest in the subject.

G. P. W.

CRAFT SOCIETY

The Society continued to meet regularly until half-term, when owing to the House Cricket competition it was deemed necessary to suspend activities until next term.

Many of the members have completed models and the results are quite satisfactory. In addition to this the Society has done valuable work for the school, such as repairing desks, blackboards, and also carried out many repairs to the interior of the pavilion.

Next term we shall have room for several new members, and Sixth form boys wishing to join are asked to send in their applications early next term, as some will probably have to be refused.

E. B. F.

We are pleased to record that this term it has been possible for several forms to receive instruction in Library methods. We trust that this will not only prove valuable to boys, but also cause them to appreciate the advantages of an extremely well-stocked library.

We would, however, remind boys that all privileges entail duties. At a recent check the number of books missing reached a very high figure. We ask those who have obtained books from the shelves without permission to return them at once, and hope that as an appreciation of the Library grows the mal-practices of former days will disappear.

Our best thanks are due to the Craft Society under the direction of Mr. Rollinson for an addition to the library accommodation, and also to Mr. Merchant for a gift of books.

THE LIBRARY COMMITTEE.
